

Global Grant Scholarships Supplement

The Rotary Foundation awards scholarships through global grants and district grants. This document will focus on global grant scholars. Global grant scholars plan to pursue a career in an area of focus, and their graduate-level educational goals should support this career interest. The following chart compares scholarships under the new grant model with Ambassadorial Scholarships to give Rotarians a better understanding of what scholarships will look like under the new Rotary Foundation grants. For additional information on district grant scholarships, clubs should contact their district Rotary Foundation committee, and districts should refer to the District Rotary Foundation Committee Manual.

TIMELINES

Global grant scholarship proposals and applications are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the year. Applications and payment information should be submitted at least three months before studies begin in order to allow adequate time for Foundation review and processing.

Applicants must provide proof of admission at the time of application; the DDF allocation is drawn from the year in which the application is approved.

Allow enough time to process the proposal and application. You'll need to respond quickly to any requests for additional information. Communicate with your partners throughout the application process to ensure that sponsoring clubs/districts are maintaining their qualified status.

FINDING AND INTERVIEWING ELIGIBLE CANDIDATES

Global grant scholars plan to pursue a career in an area of focus, and their graduate-level educational goals should support this career interest. You may wish to work with universities to identify potential scholars (e.g., outstanding graduates of a water engineering program who are seeking funding for graduate school in that field). Alternatively, universities can alert Rotary clubs to students who have been accepted into their graduate programs within a particular area of focus.

Pursuing a career in an area of focus means the scholar has a long-term commitment to measurable, sustainable change. Be sure that potential candidates support the area of focus goals. See the examples in the Areas of Focus Statements of Purpose and Goals.

Beyond confirming a candidate's eligibility, you can use the interview to evaluate the candidate along these lines:

- Excellent leadership skills and potential
- Proven record of success in his/her academic field or vocation
- Personal commitment to community service
- Well-defined and realistic goals
- Concrete ideas as to how he/she will make advances within his/her chosen career field
- Sincerity about maintaining a lifelong relationship with Rotary after the scholarship period

SPONSOR ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Once you've chosen a candidate, begin developing the grant proposal and application. See the chart at the end of this document for the stages of the process, as well as sponsor roles and responsibilities throughout the grant.

ORIENTATION

Global grant scholars are required to participate in an outbound orientation session before departure. Options include a regional scholar orientation seminar, an orientation offered by the club or district, and the self-guided online orientation (using Rotary Foundation presentation).

Regional scholar orientation seminars

A list of regional global grant scholar orientation seminars worldwide is regularly updated and accessible on the RI website. If you would like to send a scholar to one of these orientations, contact the organizer listed on the website.

District-run orientation

If your district would like to organize its own scholar orientation seminar, contact your district's grant coordinator for materials. Regional orientation seminar organizers may also be willing to provide feedback and assistance.

Club-run orientation

Your club may want to hold an individual orientation for the scholar. It should cover the same material as in a regional or district orientation, but it doesn't need to be as formal or lengthy. Contact your district's grant coordinator for seminar materials.

Online orientation

An online scholar orientation may be used in place of others, when necessary. The 30-minute presentation includes information on

- The Rotary Foundation and global grants
- Scholar responsibilities
- Reporting requirements
- Strategies for success
- Sexual harassment and inappropriate behavior

All scholars are asked to complete the online orientation as part of the predeparture process; a link is included in the global grant scholar acceptance packet.

To help provide protection and support to both Rotarians and scholars, the Foundation requires that scholar orientations include a section on sexual harassment. A Rotary guide on crisis management is available from Foundation staff. We recommend that you review both the guide and Rotary's policy on sexual abuse and harassment.

Rotary Foundation Code of Policy on Sexual Harassment and Abuse

7.080. Sexual Abuse and Harassment Prevention

All Rotarians, clubs, and districts are required to follow the statement of conduct for working with youth guidelines established by Rotary International, and the following guidelines adopted by The Rotary Foundation Trustees:

1. TRF has a zero-tolerance policy against sexual abuse and harassment.
2. An independent and thorough investigation must be made into any claims of sexual abuse or harassment.
3. Any person involved in a TRF program against whom an allegation of sexual abuse or harassment is made must be removed from all contact with TRF program participants until the matter is resolved.
4. Any allegation of abuse must be immediately reported to the appropriate law enforcement agency, in accordance with TRF's zero-tolerance policy.
5. The Rotary Code of Policies provides guidelines pertaining to Rotary clubs and their members who are found to be involved with sexual harassment. A non-Rotarian who admits to, is convicted of, or is otherwise found to have engaged in sexual abuse or harassment must be prohibited from working with TRF program participants in a Rotary context.
6. If an investigation into a claim of sexual abuse or harassment is inconclusive, then, for the safety of TRF program participants and the protection of the accused, additional safeguards must be put in place to assure the protection of any TRF program participants with whom the individual may have future contact. If there are subsequent claims of sexual abuse or harassment, the person shall be permanently prohibited from working with TRF program participants in a Rotary context. Regardless of criminal or civil guilt, the continued presence of the person could be detrimental to the reputation of the organization and could be harmful to TRF program participants. It can also benefit the person in preventing additional accusations from other TRF program participants. A person who is accused but later cleared of charges may apply to be reinstated to participate in TRF programs. Reinstatement is not a right, and no guarantee is made that he or she will be reinstated to his or her former position.
7. The general secretary shall take steps to ensure a Rotary district's compliance with these guidelines should it be determined that a district is not adhering to them. (April 2005 Trustees Mtg., Dec. 118)

SCHOLAR REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

The scholar is required to send a report to the sponsoring Rotarians every 12 months for the duration of the scholarship. (If the scholarship period is less than 12 months, the scholar is required to send a final report to the sponsoring Rotarians at the end of the scholarship period.)

The report summarizes the studies/research and the relationship to the pertinent area(s) of focus and the scholar's Rotary and community involvement. It also includes a statement of income and expenses, including receipts for any expenses equal to or greater than US$75.

Scholars should provide the summary sections in the language of the host sponsor as well, if it is different from his/her own.

POST-SCHOLARSHIP

Although the scholarship period ends, the Rotary-scholar relationship should not. Get updated contact information from the scholar and invite him or her to speak about his/her experiences at Rotary club meetings and district conferences.
